No. 2113: In-Residence Courses

Courses are considered in-residence when they are taken at ADA University, or through ADA University Abroad, or are coordinated by ADA University academic units in any instructional modality.

Courses considered not in-residence include those transferred into ADA University, those taken through a Permit to Study at Another Institution.

Some ADA University courses and programs are offered at physical sites other than the ADA University campus and are considered in-residence courses.

With some exceptions, students receive in-residence credit for such courses.

No. 2114: Study at Another Institution

Grades for courses taken during a Permit to Study at Another Institution are recorded on the ADA University transcript but are not computed in the cumulative GPA. If the transferred grade received is below "C" for undergraduate students and "B-" for graduate students, credits for such courses will not be transferred and counted in the total number of credits needed for graduation. However, students must meet GPA requirements for individual courses taken at other institutions as required for electives or major or minor courses. Students must satisfy any additional requirements provided on the Permit to Study Form. Students are not allowed to retake any failed courses at another institution.

Students who are issued a Permit to Study during a Fall or Spring semester will be placed on Temporary Leave. When a student's study at another institution is complete, the student must meet with the academic advisor for his/her program in order to re-enroll at ADA University. The Office of Student Records and Registration will update the student's record accordingly.

Undergraduate students may request to transfer credit for courses taken at another accredited institution prior to their admission to ADA University. The total number of credits transferred for a single degree program may be no greater than 30 credits and is limited by residency requirements. In no case may graduate credit be given for coursework designated as solely undergraduate by the institution where the coursework was completed.

With approval, courses taken at ADA University toward a graduate degree earned before admission to a subsequent graduate program at ADA University may be shared.

Transfer credits must be approved by a student's Associate Dean or designee prior to that student's admission to ADA University to be subsequently included in the student's Program of Study.

Students must give the Associate Dean or designee an official transcript from the institution at which the proposed course(s) was completed as well as a syllabus for each course requested for transfer.

The academic unit must inform the Office of Student Records and Registration which courses will be transferred during the student's first semester of study. Transfer credit will appear on the student's transcript, but grades from approved transferred courses at other institutions will not be counted in the student's ADA University cumulative GPA.
